About AccesRail

The Innovation of AccesRail is that it enables Rail content to be visible on the same level as flights in the powerful main airline channel, the GDS primary screen.

- ✓ All IATA agents can sell AccesRail (carrier code 9B) rail products.
- ✓ With 9B you can easily book and ticket a TAP air-rail journey on your GDS display.

What Are the Benefits?

- ✓ Offer more destinations to your customers. Give them the option to reach their final destination in the comfort of a high-speed train.
- ✓ Provide competitive offers to your customers with TAP through-fares when using rail combined with air.
- ✓ Give frequent and flexible options to your customers. Coupling rail options with air means more choices and possibilities for your clients.

Even More Travel Agent Benefits

✓ Convenient & Tailored Options

Agents have access to a large network of domestic and short haul international routes which are fast, cost effective and frequent.

✓ Increased Feeder Options

Agents also have quick access to products that are complementary to the air travel, acting as a feeder on both ends of the air trip, all in the GDS primary screen.
